DONATION OF A WATER TANK

SRP Foundation contributed to solving a rural issue at a village near its factory in Kakkavadi. The rural community get Cauvery water once in two days, while all households use buckets to store water and take it home, excess water gets wasted into the land. Most of the time the villagers don't have water to drink and cook at nights. They sought help from us to establish a water tank to help store this excess water. We built a tank to regulate the water supply. These tanks can help to prevent irregular distribution of water due to irregular user demand or unforeseen factors such as weather-related events. Our foundation took up the work and helped the rural households overcome this problem. On the eve of Environment day we took up the same place, cleaned it, and planted trees to support rains.

WORLD ORGAN DONORS DAY

Save a LIFE after Life..

SRP Foundation created an awareness session on Organ Donation to mark the “World Organ Donors Day” by WHO. This important topic was explained with suitable examples by the Dean of Karur Medical College Dr. Muthuselvan. He was supported by his team who created awareness on various types of organs that can be donated and busted some myths surrounding it. Employees came forward and gave their commitment to this truly Nobel cause. One person’s organ can save many lives !Organ donation is a valuable act performed by an individual while either they are alive, or dead, by his successors. The objective of the day is to spread awareness among people and to recognize the selfless efforts made towards mankind and re-establish belief in humanity. The main reason behind such less organ donation is the lack of knowledge among people regarding the process of organ transplant. The common organs that are generally transplanted are the heart, kidneys, liver, or skin. With this I’m happy to inform that my whole family- me, both my parents and father in law donated eyes. And my husband and mother in law donated whole body to medical college

Awareness session on Child Sexual Abuse

On March 22, 2024, at Vangal Girls Higher Secondary School, I conducted an awareness session on Child Sexual Abuse and provided insights and information on the prevention of Child Sexual Abuse, specifically addressing the POSCO Act 2012. This year, I have initiated these awareness sessions again, starting with this first session, and I have more sessions planned throughout the year.

The students demonstrated remarkable engagement and attentiveness during the session, actively participating by asking numerous questions. I was pleased to address their queries and provide feedback, fostering an open dialogue on this crucial issue. Even after the session concluded, several students approached me seeking further information about the act, and I was able to offer guidance and support.

Almost eight girls shared their stories with me, and I found solace in being able to guide and reassure them, instilling courage to confront their challenges. Overall, the session was incredibly impactful, empowering students and teachers with valuable knowledge and resources to address child abuse effectively.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to the HM of Vangal School for allowing me to conduct this session and create a meaningful difference in the lives of these students.

As a gesture of support and care, innerwear was distributed to girls after the session.

Session on Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle.

SHREE RENGA POLYMERS

On June 14th, Shree Renga Polymers SRP Foundation conducted an engaging and informative awareness session focused on waste management and the crucial importance of the 3Rs: reduce, reuse, and recycle. During the session, we took the opportunity to educate the children on the practical aspects of waste segregation, highlighting the different categories of waste and the appropriate methods for sorting and disposing of each type.

We delved into the concept of the 3Rs, providing detailed explanations and real-life examples to help the children understand how each component plays a vital role in protecting our environment. For instance, we illustrated how reducing waste can minimize the strain on landfills and conserve natural resources. We also discussed various ways to reuse products, thereby extending their life cycle and reducing the need for new resources. Additionally, we covered the recycling process, explaining how different materials such as paper, PET, plastic, and metals can be transformed into new products, thus saving energy and reducing pollution.

As a company dedicated to sustainability, Shree Renga Polymers believes that fostering environmental awareness from a young age is essential. By instilling these values in children, we aim to empower the next generation to take proactive steps in protecting our planet. We emphasized that small actions, when multiplied across communities, can lead to significant positive impacts on the environment.

To further support the children's education and development, we distributed stationery kits to each participant as they embark on their new academic year. These kits, which include essential supplies such as notebooks, pens, and pencils, are intended to encourage their studies and inspire them to apply the knowledge they gained during the session in their everyday lives.

We are confident that this initiative will not only benefit the children in their immediate academic pursuits but also contribute to a broader cultural shift towards sustainability. We wish all the children the very best for their new academic year and hope that the lessons learned during our session will stay with them, guiding their actions towards a greener, more sustainable future.
